CONSULTING

NEW ENDEAVORS IN 2019

KIND WORDS

“One important impact that I see is that the library that undertakes the strategic planning process gains a much better perspective of its value in the community and is given the tools to define it and validate it with data. This gives the library director and staff confidence, and empowers them to step up in partnership with community organizations, or in defending the library's value to those who allocate the budget funds. It also gives the library an excellent intentional and measurable approach to moving forward.”
